Madonna Row Opening Set

El Camino College will mark the opening of the Christmas season with the 15th annual presentation of its traditional art exhibit, Madonna Row, Dec. 13.

Originated in 1949 by Miss Mildred K. Walker, El Camino art instructor, the display will include paintings and reproductions of great art objects. Eight oil paintings are in the group; all are enlargements of the original art works. They are done in the original style, and, in many cases, materials and techniques identical to the original are utilized.

THE DISPLAY will present Madonna paintings which represent the Mother and Child scenes of the Nativity.

Among the well-known Madonnas shown will be Raphael's "The Madonna of the Chair," Van Eyck's the "Ince Hall Madonna," and the "Blue Madonna," a reproduction of a stained glass window from the Cathedral of Chartres in France.

Also on display will be reproductions of rare art objects, including ceramic and glass mosaics, and a medieval book cover of ivory, precious metal and gems.

THOUSANDS of visitors have made it a traditional experience to view the display, located in front of the Administration Building on Crenshaw Boulevard.

Visitors are invited to view the art exhibit, which is brilliantly lighted at night, by turning in to the service road running parallel to Crenshaw Boulevard.

The display will be on view from Dec. 13 to Jan. 2.
